Always be thankful'

1 Thessalonians 5:16

Dear Parents,

In our world of 24 hour supermarkets – with their shelves bursting with countless pre-packaged forms of wheat, barley and their gluten-free equivalents. The multiple varieties of Manuka honey and chilli infused olive oil – it can be easy for us all to take food for granted. Harvest time is a great opportunity for us to recall and celebrate together the origins of these good gifts – to express our gratitude for the land and people who produce them, and to thank God. This morning we had the opportunity to express our thanks and support others who are less fortunate than ourselves. Anna and Amelie were both overwhelmed by the amount of Harvest gifts you brought in this morning. Thank you.

Next week will be our last before our half term break, and then it will be the countdown to Christmas! On Monday, we would everyone to bring their Home Learning Journal back into school. We will then store them safely until Wednesday when the children will be able to share their work with their peers.

Tuesday and Wednesday will bring our first virtual parents' evenings – another new during these strange times. On Monday you will be sent an invitation for TEAMS and a copy of our online protocol for virtual meetings. When you first log on, you will be 'kept' in a waiting room until we are ready to start your meeting. I'm really conscious that won't be able to come into school to see your children's work or some of the amazing displays we currently have. I will put together a short video next week, which I will post on our Facebook page for you.

Before I sign off for the weekend, I would like to thank you for all of your support and kind words over the last half term. Have a wonderful weekend. See you all on Monday.

Kind Regards,

Kate Appleby
