I was watching the 6 nations the other day and reflecting upon the fouls that are committed in sport. It got me thinking about Lent.

In sport there are definitely different kinds of fouls.

There are the unintentional ones. A player gets in the way of play causing an obstruction. There are the unfortunate mistimed ones, the ones where the player has already offloaded the ball and the tackle comes in too late. There are the cheeky ones, the player thinks they might just get away with, ref might not be looking, no one is going to get hurt. And there are the cynical ones. The classic footballer through on goal and the last defender clips their heels. Deliberately committed for their teams gain.

In many ways there are similarities between sport and our lives. We sin, we miss the standards that God sets for us. Sometimes accidentally getting ourselves in the wrong place. We unintentionally fall short of God's standards. Sometimes, we have misunderstood a situation and said things, an unfortunate mistimed comment. Occasionally, we hope God is not looking, and cheekily allow ourselves to do something we know is wrong. Not often I hope, but there are times when we can be cynical in our behaviour towards God and others.

Lent helps us to think about our actions. In a number of sports, when you commit a foul, you can end up in the 'sin bin' and a few moments off the pitch to think about what you have done wrong. In many ways Lent is a bit like a sin bin, one where we choose to step out of the chaos for a while to stop and reflect upon our actions, preparing our hearts and minds. We use Lent to reflect on how we have hurt God and other people. It helps us to see where we have fallen short and recognise where we are at fault. It also helps us to say sorry.

Another way sport can help us to reflect in Lent is to think about the moment when a foul has been committed. The VAR or TMO look over the incident again and again, pundits discussing what would be the appropriate punishment.

Lent encourages believers to look back at their failings and again and again to Easter and the remarkable truth that for the believer, despite the offence being cynical, they are forgiven. Not because no foul has been committed, but because Christ has taken the punishment on their behalf.

Maybe if you watch any sport this Lent, you might use the time when play is stopped after a foul to think about your own life, how we all miss God's standards, and what Easter has got to say about it.

A prayer for Lent

Dear Father in Heaven

In this month, when Lent begins, we remember Jesus' experience in the wilderness. The world today can seem like a wilderness. So many difficult, incomprehensible things going on. It is tempting to turn away in horror or denial, tempting to look out for ourselves, tempting to take the easy path, to pay attention to whatever the culture dangles before our eyes.

Lord, please help us. We need your word to guide us. We need your Holy Spirit to fill and strengthen us. Help us to give our attention and our worship only to you.

Lead us not into temptation. But deliver us from evil.

Thank you, Father, for Jesus, who by his death and resurrection, opens the way to you. Help us to renew our trust in him and through him, to walk with you every day.

In his name, Amen.

St Peter's Plough Service & Supper

The Plough Service is a wonderful way to celebrate the amazing work done by our farmers and to thank God for their abilities tending their animals and cultivating the land and to ask for God's blessing for the coming year.

We then enjoyed a lovely end to the evening having a delicious supper in the Hall.

Thank you to our amazing team of ladies, Ruth, Ellen, Margaret and Phyllis who organised the buffet as well as serving drinks and tidying round afterwards. A special thank you to Andrew Hollinshead for the very tasty selection of cheeses. Finally thanks to everyone who provided food and raffle prizes.

A total of £181 was raised from the raffle, donations and supper money. This was divided between Ruby Humphrey (chorister) who is doing a run in aid of Combat Stress for Veteran's Mental Health and Peter Spencer (he looks after our organ) who is doing his first marathon in aid of Asthma-Lung UK in memory of his daughter.

Irene

Combat Stress for Veterans' Mental Health

As I am someone who likes to try and stay fit and active and enjoy taking part in adventurous activities, I came across the combat stress charity who promoted a fundraising activity.

I chose this challenge as I wanted to physically push myself further than I have before in my fitness and this charity encourages me to do that while motivating me to train to improve my fitness goals through what the charity supports. In addition to this, I am using this to prepare myself to hopefully go into the Royal Air Force to start my chosen career because I aspire to join a service where I can help others, providing a public service to the people along with being able to feel a sense of purpose in myself, my actions and my life, as well as exploring what we know as God's creation.

Combat Stress is the UK's leading charity for veterans' mental health. For over a century, they've helped former servicemen and women deal with issues like trauma, anxiety, depression and post-traumatic stress disorder. Today, they provide support to veterans and their families from every service and every conflict.

So, I'm taking on March in March to help take vital steps towards ensuring veterans can get the support they need as for many the battle still continues, and in memory of all those who gave their service.

Furthermore, fundraising for this charity will be in the memory of my Great Grandad Leslie Treweek who served in the RAF (who initially sparked my respect for the armed services from the stories I've been told as I believe, like my Great Grandad, the RAF will help me feel as though I am serving God and his people like Leslie once did), my Great Great Grandad Norburn who served in the Army and my Great Grandad Reynold Humphrey who served in the Royal Marines, and for all those who will never be forgotten for their service.

Support my #MarchinMarch and join me in taking steps to ensure all veterans can access effective mental health services. If able please donate to my fundraising page and help in making a life-saving difference!

<https://events.combatstress.org.uk/s/16387/21359/>

Thank you so much to everyone who has given and supported me in my fundraising task already and those who took the time to help me spread awareness and fundraise the money for veterans and their families. Everything raised will help the combat stress charity so much and make a huge impact on peoples' lives. I am really thankful and grateful for my church community and their kindness towards me.

The Foodbank at St Paul's Centre simply could not operate in providing crisis food parcels to those in urgent need without the tremendous contribution of the local community. From July to December 2024, you have helped us to provide emergency food to 1500 local people representing over 700 households.

Thank You!

Whether you have donated individually; organised a collection as a church, school, business or local organisation/group; volunteered your time or donated financially – THANK YOU!!

Here are some highlights about your donations:

- during Harvest approximately 20 schools and 25 churches organised Harvest Festival collections.
- as part of their charity badge, Pym's Lane Brownie Group, Crewe, collected food items over a 6-week period.
- Scouts from a local scout group arranged a collection around their village. Despite the storm that occurred on the day of the collection they persevered and collected on foot from many households.
- over Christmas employees from a number of local businesses decided to donate food instead of buying Secret Santa presents.
- Complete Wills, 34-36 Hightown, Crewe CW1 3BS has committed to purchase some of our food shortages per month for a year.

We are sorry we can't mention everyone or every group by name, this email would be pages long if we did. Be encouraged by the words of Desmond Tutu... "Do your little bit of good where you are; it's those little bits of good put together that overwhelm the world."

Your continued support is still needed. Remember 'every item makes a difference'.

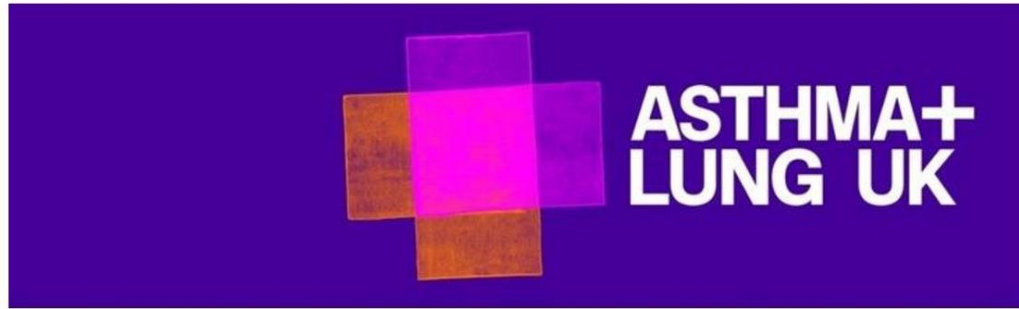

Current shortages are:

- Tins of corned beef; pork; fruit; carrots; sweetcorn; rice pudding.
- Long grain rice
- Jam
- Long life puddings (e.g. microwaveable sponge puddings)
- UHT semi-skimmed milk

Fund Raising for Asthma+Lung UK

My name is Peter Spencer and I look after the pipe organ in your church.

On April 27th I will be running the London Marathon to raise money for Asthma+Lung UK, in memory of my daughter Katie who would have been 25 this year. We lost her in 2012 to a rare asthma attack aged 11.

We all know someone who suffers with asthma. 1 in 11 people in the UK have asthma, and every 10 seconds someone in the UK is having a potentially life threatening asthma attack.

It would be wonderful if you could take the time to donate.

I have an Asthma Fund Raising Page at;

<https://join.aluk.org.uk/fundraisers/PeterSpencer/lm-charity-25>

Thank you. All donations are very much appreciated.

News from Warmingham CE Primary School

Last September, we introduced a new RE scheme across the school: Questful RE. The initial feedback from the children and staff is very positive. The older children particularly enjoy the discussions they now have as part of the RE work.

This half term our oldest children have been learning about Jesus, and the parables He told. The children unpicked each parable to identify the message Jesus was trying to convey before we turned them into a modern-day version. They then thought onto The Beatitudes and the key qualities God would like us to show so that the 'Kingdom of God' becomes a reality on Earth as well as in heaven.

To finish off this term's learning, the children were asked to write a description or poem about the Kingdom of God.

The Kingdom of God

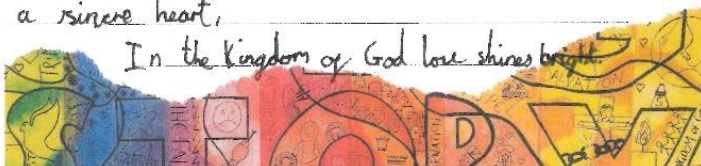

The Kingdom of God is a magical garden blooming with kindness and peace,
It is like a crystal-clear stream, flowing
with purity,
It is a rope pulling you up from the darkest depths of your sorrow,
In the Kingdom of God there is no need for gear, for there are no tears left to cry.

The Kingdom of God is a radiant beacon, illuminating the path to righteousness and guiding
us home,
There is a sparkling river of happiness flowing
through our hearts,
It is an arched rainbow where the treasure is to have a sincere heart,

In the Kingdom of God love shines bright.

The Kingdom of God is a mighty tree spreading love all around,
It is a Kingdom where everyone is wrapped
in God's warm blanket,
In the Kingdom of God there is no
fighting but infinite peace.

By Emily

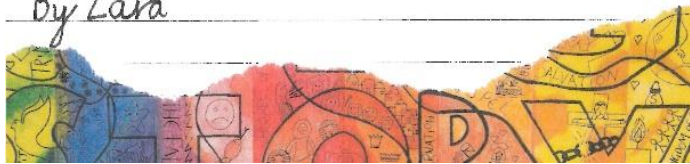

The Kingdom of God

The Kingdom of God is like a fountain washing away ^{our} sins as God's love helps us to climb the highest mountain. It's where compassion and kindness light up the way so we can take on a brand new day. A sunny day that never ends, full of smiles and loving friends. It's a golden castle where joy is the treasure for God is your father, he will love you forever.

The Kingdom of God is like a rope, it pulls you up when you have lost all hope, it's a magical garden with beautiful flowers as God covers you in showers of love, a rainbow of happiness that lights up the sky. It's not just a place you go when you die. For the Kingdom of God is like a shining star guiding you to who you truly are.

By Zara

The Kingdom of God

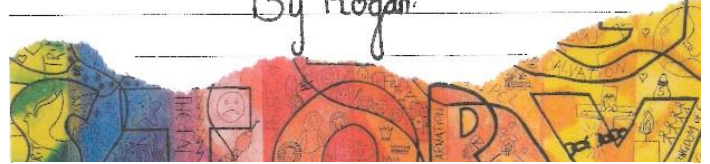

The Kingdom of God is a shining paradise with endless love, a rainbow that stretches across the world.

The Kingdom of God is like a home where forgiveness flows like a gentle river, where breezes whisper words of wisdom.

The Kingdom of God is like a comforting hug. The Kingdom of God is like a peaceful meadow, where love blooms like a flower.

The Kingdom of God is like a shining star guiding us through the darkest night. The Kingdom of God is like a blazing fire igniting hearts with hope and peace.

By Rogan

God can help us help others for His love is contagious.

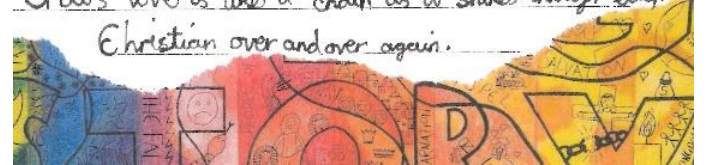

The Kingdom of God is a mighty tree, its roots deep in faith, its branches spreading love and hope,

A melody of peace that fills our souls with delight,

God's love will take us through the night, as we fight for what is right.

The Kingdom of God is a mighty, magnificent castle, a divine abode where peace and justice reign,

God's love is like a chain as it shines through each Christian over and over again.

The Kingdom of God

The Kingdom of God is a boundless ocean, filled with depths of wisdom and honesty,

A treasure chest full of hope and endless dreams,

It's a place where God's light shines in beams

The Kingdom of God is like a crystal-clear stream flowing with purity and love,

God's love will guide us through the times that are rough,

The Kingdom of God is like a shining star, guiding us through the hardest times and into greatness,

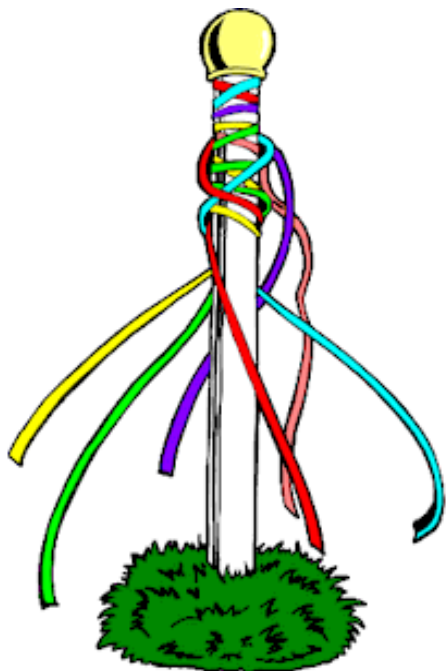

The Kingdom of God

A shining paradise where love never ends, a shining paradise where we are all friends. A land where every smile lights up the sky, a land that will never hear a sigh.

A treasure chest full of endless dreams, a treasure chest that brings joy like a stream. A family where God's love is the warmest hug, a family that will plug you in when you feel unplugged.

A place where God will be there for you, even when you feel you ~~just~~ can't get through. The Kingdom of God is like a radiant beam, guiding you to safety so you can be seen.

The Kingdom of God is like a blessing jar, filling our hearts with love divine. Speaking to God gives you new abilities, filling our lives with endless possibilities.
